

Spring 2004 Professional Development Day

ACHE New England held a one-day spring Professional Development Day in 2004 instead of the traditional three-day conference in order to conserve energies and resources for the upcoming Annual Conference in Newport in the Fall.

The Spring Professional Development Day was hosted by and took place on the campus of Bridgewater State College on Wednesday, April 28. The theme of the day was: Steal This...Sharing Success and Best Practices.

The Planning Committee (Chair, Ray Guillette and members, Frances Bellas, Pat Brinegar, Francine Fink, Larry Isaacson, Jean Remillard, Lewis Shena) created an exciting event in which both selected presenters and those in attendance could draw attention to their best and worst ideas as regards Programming, Student Services and Partnerships with Corporate and External Organizations.
