

MidAtlantic Spring Conference

April 11-13, 2018

Annapolis, MD

CALL FOR PRESENTATION PROPOSALS

The theme for MidAtlantic's Spring 2018 Conference is Ahead of the curve: Innovative ideas and strategies you can implement tomorrow.

Join us in Annapolis as we present new ideas and successes that will help you innovate and grow your respective programs. We are searching for ideas, initiatives, and innovations that your colleagues around the region can learn and take back to their campuses for immediate implementation. Have one you want to share?

We are looking for proposals on the following topics (yet not limited to): solving for the hurdles and barriers preventing adults from enrolling, advising and mentoring programs that keep adult students on track, student success centers, effective prior learning programs that help students complete programs faster, assessment of current strategies, news uses of technology that supports degree completion and retention efforts, implementation of competency based education, and topics involving non-credit programs.

We look forward to reviewing your proposal.

The deadline for proposals is February 26, 2018.

Please submit proposals by email attachment to Mickey Baines at mbaines@kennedyandcompany.com.

Should have you any questions, please feel free to contact ACHE MidAtlantic 2018 Conference Program Committee Member Mickey Baines at 484-525-0550.
